Proposals

FOR Publishing by Subscription, and now ready for the press, a series of historical volumes, which when finished will assume the title of

Universal History Americanised;

Or, an historical view of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, from the earliest records to the nineteenth century—with a particular reference to the state of society, literature, religion, and form of government in the United States of America.

BY DAVID RAMSAY, M. D.

"Life is so short and time so valuable, tha it were happy for us if all great works were reduced to their quintessence." Sir William Jones.

PROSPECTUS.

ASIA.

The Asiatic part of this work contains a general view of the antediluvians—of the general deluge—of the re-settlement of the Globe after that great event—of the primitive postdiluvian nations, which were formed in Asia, the cradle of the world. Their various ramifications, revolutions, and of the general course of Empire.

AFRICA.

The African part, contains a concise history of Egypt, Carthage, Numidia, Mauritania, Abyssinia, of the Piratical States, and the Hottentots, with a general view of its uncivilized settlements.

EUROPE.

The European part, contains the history of Greece and Rome, from their origin to their dissolution—of the various nations which were conquered by them—and of the nations by which the Romans themselves were finally conquered, and of the nations which were formed from the fragments of the Roman Empire, and the various revolutions of the latter, together with a view of the nations which never were subjected to the Romans.

AMERICA.

The American part, contains a general history of the Western continent, under the heads of Free, European, and Aboriginal or unconquered America. The first contains a history of the United States, from their first settlement as English Colonies, till the present time.—The second, of all parts dependant on Europe.—And the third, of all that are still owned by the Aborigines.

It is expected that the whole will be comprised in 10 or 12 octavo volumes, of between four and five hundred pages each—to be printed in Philadelphia, on good paper and fair types, for $3 9 1-3 per volume, in sheep binding, or $4 1-3 Calf Gilt, to be paid for on delivery.

AUTHORITIES.

This work has been in contemplation upwards of 40 years. The project of it was conceived in 1786, on reading the Universal History, then recently edited in 60 volumes, by a society of gentlemen in England. The original idea of extracting the quintessence of that voluminous work, which contained the most complete system of history the world had then seen, has ever since been enlarging and improving by an attentive perusal of the histories written by Robertson, Hume, Gibbon, and other modern authors—of the Asiatic researches—of the works of Sir William Jones, and other learned Orientalists—the publications of intelligent travellers, who, in the course of the last half century have explored almost every region of the Globe. These collectively have thrown a blaze of light on countries comparatively unknown, and on portions, both of ancient and modern history which were confused and obscure at the period when the writers of the Universal History published their work. The arrangement of materials collected from these sources commenced in the year 1780, when, in consequence of the surrender of Charleston to Sir Henry Clinton, the author was suddenly released from a sea of business and sent as a prisoner of war to the British Garrison then in St. Augustine, and there confined for eleven months, without any peculiar employment. Steady progress has been made for the last ten years in correcting and transcribing the work for publication.

UNITED STATES.

The History of the United States is given at full length—that of foreign countries is more or less expended or contracted in proportion to the intrinsic importance of each—its tendency to illustrate portions of Holy Writ—the Greek and Latin Classics—and also in proportion to its connexion with the U. States, or as furnishing useful practical information to its citizens, or as the paternal soil of their ancestors.

The above sketch of the nature and objects of this immense work, which has occupied the attention of the Author for upwards of 40 years, was found among his papers, and is now given to the public in his own words. Since that period, a few chapters have been added by the Reverend SAMUEL STANHOPE SMITH, which brings it down to the close of the last war.

The publication commences with a third impression of the History of the U. States, in three volumes, which is all that has ever appeared. The whole will not be delivered under 15 or 20 months. It is proper to state, that the gentlemen who have the direction of it are neither booksellers nor printers, and receive no pecuniary consideration for their trouble—but are willing to make the necessary advances to carry it into execution provided the sale is warranted by public patronage. The profits arising are to be appropriated for the support and education of his children, four of each sex: to them its success is a matter of deep importance.

HURSDAY, APRIL 23, 1818.

FOR THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.

may be considered almost out of sea to reply to Z.'s last communication. when he is informed I am a man that in a measure to obtain my living by sweat of my brow, he will excuse my y, as not having time at all seasons apply myself in this way. In looking r his last I observe at least one truth— it is, that I need an instructor. I am y certain that without an instructor I uld know but little; but I can assure that I look not to books, neither do ook to man, for I am confident that hat I know on this all important sub- t I received not of man, but by that pirit which is truth and no lie. He ap- ears to think that I have lost sight of e subject—in this I may say he mis- understood me; but I did and still do think the quotations already made are sufficient, without multiplying to confu- ion. Let us first endeavor to digest those, and then, if more should be ne- cessary, they can be easily brought in— let us try the subject and see what may be produced. He says Socrates had the knowledge of God—I grant the fact as undeniable, and made a quotation from the lip of truth to show how he came by that knowledge; although Z. appears to be of the mind that he had refuted me in the quotation, still I will again repeat the divine words—"No man knoweth the father but the son and He to whom the son doth reveal him." I next quote the words of the apostle to prove that all had, or could have, that knowledge, by mentioning the influence of that "light that doth enlighten every man that cometh into the world," it appears to me that the Redeemer and his holy apostle must have been wrong, or Z must be mistaken in the import of the quotations. If all are enlightened, surely Socrates was included; and I believe that the apostle had as good information on the subject as either of us—consequently I join with him in opinion. And as the Redeemer says that He is the alone way by which this information would be ob- tained, I expect He knew as much about it as Z.; so I think it best not to change my opinion upon the subject, except bet- ter authority can be produced by him than that I have already produced. It is a certain fact that we can only come to the knowledge of a thing but by being acquainted with that thing, so no man can come to the knowledge of God but by the revelation of God—so as the psalmist must have obtained his know- ledge in this way, as Socrates, having a spark of the same light, must have re- ceived his knowledge through that spark, which being attended to by him, it became as a flame of light, by which he became acquainted with the author of that light, which doth "enlighten every man that cometh into the world." If Socrates neglected to follow this light, he was lia- ble to wander in darkness as other men— even as the wise king of Israel did, who, it is said, made many gods after witnes- sing such divine favors—so might So- crates at his latter end; but I am inform- ed that the Athenians put him to death for contempt of their gods—if this is true, perhaps he had not entirely lost that light; but I have no desire to exalt him, and at the same time want not to judge him. We are such selfish creatures for the most part, we are willing to think ourselves the favorites of Heaven, and decry all others. In this way we con- tinue to nourish that vile principle of sectarianism, that vile monster of party strife, which should be exploded by eve- ry believer. Self is its motto, and self its motive—willing to cast all others to destruction, but save itself—not consi- dering that self is always at enmity with God. In my opinion this is the Christian warfare, to overcome self—to die under the cross, that we may rise again into newness of life, and then, whether Jew or Gentile, bond or free, we are Christians indeed. I believe that God looks not at sect or party, but at the heart; for he needeth not that any should tell him what is in man, for he knoweth the very secrets of our hearts; so we are not chosen by profession, but by possession. And that all may seek until they do find that principle which giveth possession is the ardent desire of my mind. I might say more, but believe it best to leave the subject—not that I am apprehensive of a repulse, but remembering the old adage, "least said soonest mended." S

The adjournment of congress may be supposed by some to have suspended in a great degree public speculations upon its conduct, and on the value or demerit of the proceedings of the past session,—No doubt the minds of our Quidnuncs, fatigued with running in the daily ring of the process of legislation, in which so vast a proportion of the days it occupied presented a kind of mutual fac simile of each other, will feel no very sharp appe- tite to return again to the course; but will, as naturally as men after very hard exercise fall asleep, give their minds, and their pens, and, if such a thing were possible, their tongues too, a little rest. Nay, whether it be the working of my imagination or not, I will not take upon me to affirm, but it appears to me that our public prints already present to their readers as perfect a sample of what pain ters call repose as we have ever seen ex- hibited on paper. For our parts we think that it is, after congress have ceased to act for the season, that their conduct most properly becomes the property of public commentators, and that the deeds of the session will be with greatest effect, propriety and decorum scanned, and ei- ther praised or censured, just as they may deserve, during the recess. The whole of each measure can then be best brought under one view, the various parts of it compared with each other, and the entire subject be most fairly judged with respect to its effects and the probability of its attaining its object.

It is in the recess too—when popular feelings and prejudices will have had time to cool down—when the passions excited by demagogues and scribblers, or by wild political fanatics, will have had leisure to subside, and yielded them- selves up to the calm results of reflec- tion—when the despotism of popular pride, working itself off in a wanton dis- play of independence, and what the sa- gacious Roman poet (Horace) calls "Civium ardor prava Jubentium," shall have vented themselves and mixed with the air, that the proceedings of our na- tional legislature can with greatest proba- bility of usefulness be examined with re- lation to the opinions of the public, or to the satisfaction or dislikes, the praises or the reproaches, the indignation or the wel- come, with which they were greeted by the multitude on their entrance into the world. The press, if it serves as a salu- tary guide, is often converted into a trea- cherous beacon to lead the public astray. Open alike to the wise and virtuous pa- triot, as to the ambitious usurper, and his slave the Proteus-like demagogue—to the Catos and Brutuses—also the Cata- lines and Clodiuses of the day, it too of- ten defaces the truth it pretends to en- force, and through it the conduct of Con- gress is often impeached of being unwise where it deserves high praise, and some- times immoderately praised where those who best consulted the credit of its pro- ceedings, would be most studiously silent

We shall, therefore, during the recess, take an occasional retrospective view of the proceedings of Congress, and make some free but candid comments from some particular measures, which have ex- cited more than usual public attention; and with equal freedom and equal can- dor, unfold our sentiments respecting the popular ebullitions that have followed them, to the perversion of sound policy and good principles, and to the distortion of the public opinion.

There are notes of the denominations of 1, 3, 5, and 10 dollars, lately put in circulation, purporting to be issued by the Bank of Sandusky Bay, at Bloom- ingville. They are elegantly executed; the plate was engraved by S. Reed, and they resemble the notes of the Commer- cial Bank of Lake Erie, at Cleveland.— These notes, we are informed, were pro- cured by persons who had associated to- gether in Huron county, for the purpose of establishing a Bank at Bloomingville, but, not being able to procure a charter, and finding that bank notes issued from unchartered institutions were in bad cre- dit, have abandoned the business, and sold their paper which they had procured to the amount of $70,000, and the indi- viduals who have purchased it are at- tempting to palm it upon the public.— They have filled them up with fictitious signatures.

We think no time should be lost in cautioning the public against taking them, as there is no such bank.

We are informed, that three men by the names of Leech, Have and Dike, have started down the river, having about thir- ty thousand dollars in their possession These gentlemen swindlers will no doubt dash into business in the first style of their profession, as they pass down the Ohio. Let editors of papers sound the alarm.

BANK OF ST. LOUIS

By a publication in a newspaper at St. Louis on the 13th of March, we are in- formed, that the bank had been opened, agreeably to notice, on the 10th of that month, and was then paying specie regu- larly on demand. The extraordinary differences and proceedings, which had taken place, and in which it is difficult to discover what party was most in fault, seem to have been accommodated, and the business of the bank resumed in the usual way. To be enabled to judge what degree of credit is due to its paper, the public should know, that its late cashier, John B. N. Smith, sold bills, as its officer, to the amount of more than 90,000 dol- lars—for the proceeds of which he has not accounted to the bank, and the whole of which it is probable the bank will lose —that its capital, if we are rightly in- formed, is but 150,000 dollars—and that it still continues in the hands of the di- rectors, by whom Smith was kept in office, and by whose mismanagement the late ir- regularities were produced.—[Reporter.

INDIAN ALARM

We have just seen a gentleman, who arrived in this city last night, from Darien. He informs us, that on Sunday last, the major of the regiment in Wayne county reached Darien, with despatches for gen eral Hopkins—the substance of which were, that the Indians had entered Wayne county, burnt several houses, and that the inhabitants were flying for refuge into Glynn. On Monday last, our informant states that, gen. Hopkins issued order- for the militia of M'Intosh and Glynn, to march in pursuit of the Indians, forthwith.

It appears probable that the number of applicants for the benefit of the provisions of the act for the relief of the indigent survivors of the Army of the Revolution, will exceed the largest computation which was made whilst the subject was under debate in Congress. Four hundred and forty-five, it appears, have already applied from the vicinity of Boston alone. The accounts from various parts of the country give gratifying information of the bless- ings which this act will shed on the poor and decrepid veterans. In the town of York, Pa. it appears, thirteen persons (none of them commissioned officers) have applied to the proper judicial officer, whose ages combined amount to 956 years! "What a spectacle," says the York Ga- zette, "is Sergeant Thomas's venerable, honorable, and ancient squad! Their history is all eventful. Poor, old, lame, blind, deaf, and forgetful! They never looked to see this day. They have been bandied about from pillar to post, often without a home or stated place of resi- dence."

From the Boston Centinel, of April 15.

Up to yesterday 445 of the old officers and soldiers of the Revolution have ap- peared before Judge Davis, to put in their claims for the small, though needed and timely bounty of their country. Some of these veterans were now more than 80 years of age—one we saw was 88—and one, aged 84, who entered his claim last week, has since departed to obtain a high- er and eternal reward. [*Nat. SPAIN...CONCLUDED.

As I am speaking more particularly of our commercial concerns, I think it unne cessary to refer to the acquisition of Flo- rida, as a leading feature in the contem- plated project. That country is virtually ours already. We have claims against Spain, which can only be settled by its surrender to us, and if we have but a lit- tle patience, it will drop quietly into our hands. It is worse than useless to Spain. She knows that we will have it, and she will before long make a virtue of neces- sity, and surrender it, without the small- est exertion of force.

Although we have proved that in that part of our commerce which relates to Spain, we have much, very much to lose, and nothing to gain by war with her, yet I fear that this will be but a small item, compared to the injury which will be sus- tained by our trade in general. To prac- ticed men it would be unnecessary to mention the increased charges of every kind which must in time of war be sup ported by their commerce, but to those of a different description it may not be im- proper to state, that the increased wages of seamen, the great advance in the rates of insurance, and the necessity of arming our vessels, will conspire to enhance the price of carriage to such a degree that we shall be unable to carry on our trade on as favorable terms as those who will be neutral on this occasion. Among these Great Britain will take the lead. She has by the late treaty the right of trading in our ports on the most favorable terms; and she will doubtless accommodate us with the means of transporting our goods to all parts of the world, and will thus enable us to keep our own ships securely at our wharves. Our ships of war will give employment to such of our seamen as will not choose to abandon our service; and if they can find the ships of the ene- my, they will doubtless display their u- sual gallantry. But where would they look for them? They may occasionally meet and capture privateers; but the ene- my's ships of war and merchant vessels will disappear from the ocean. The S a- nish trade is mostly carried on at this time under neutral colours, it will then be wholly so; and here again the good offices of Great Britain will be freely tendered for the general carriage of that trade. We may indeed blockade some of their principal Spanish ports, but we may experience no small difficulties with the superior squadrons of the British ships before the same ports. They will quote to us the rules of neutrality, gradua ted by our own scale: and we, in our turn, may quote from their orders in council the rights of belligerents But we must be prepared to yield, for we shall be deficient in the most essential right, that of the strongest. We must also be prepared to see the most serious conse- quences occasionally result from these adverse claims which will be discussed by parties, who will be armed, and be- tween whom there cannot even at this time exist much cordiality. These con sequences may lead to others, very re- mote from our original expectations. It must then be evident that we shall not only lose a most valuable trade with Spain and her West Indi- Islands—but that the whole of our remaining commerce will either be conducted on the most unfavor- able terms in our own vessels, or will be transferred, as far as it respects carriage to neutral nations, to the imminent ha zard of sacrificing the great branch on which our naval power depends. We may affect to despise the navy of Spain; but when we look at the geographical po- sition of her seaports in Europe and America, we see much reason to dread the system of privateering, to which her maritime efforts will be confined, and in which she will not want the ready aid of the experienced adepts who will flock to her ports from all quarters for the purpose of plundering our commerce.

Our limits will not admit of our stating in detail the ill effects which this war would inevitably produce on all the dif- ferent branches of trade. But trusting that in the general view which we have exhi- bited, we have proved that the amount of loss in this impo tant item will vastly transcend that of our gain—we will here dismiss this part of our subject for the present, and will hazard some few ob- servations, on the nature and kind of aid which we may propose to give the pa- triots.

It cannot be expected that we should send our ships and troops to attack the fortresses which are held by the royalists in the Gulph of Mexico, or what is called the Spanish Maine. The smallest infor- mation as to the insalubrity of the climate, without a reference to the proverbial strength of the fortresses would shew the madness of such a project; and the same observation would apply with equal force to the islands of Cuba and Porto Rico.— We are now prepared to furnish, and ac- tually do furnish all the arms and ammu- nition that may be called for by the pa- triots, it is true that this can only be ef- fected in the parts of the province of Ve- nezuela, adjacent to the river Orenoko, and on the northern coast of Mexico, near our line. And we do not see how a war with Spain could multiply our points of contact with the patriots, on that extensive range of sea-coast. Bue- nos Ayres and Chili are too remote for military expedition; nor are they requi- site in these countries, where arms and ammunition only are wanted. They have been furnished by Great-Britain and our- selves beyond the measure of demand.— It is therefore against Mexico that we will direct our undivided force. The ap- parent ease with which we can enter that country, and the spirit of revolution which has been manifested by a portion of its inhabitants, may induce a belief, but by no means a certainty, of ultimate success. We have no sure data by which we can estimate the measure of aid or re- sistance which we are to find in the en- terprise. The jealous policy of the Spa- nish government keeps from the view and knowledge of strangers, every thing that relates to this, her most valuable posses- sion. But, before proceeding in this work of conquest, we should, and I trust we shall, institute an enquiry into the motives and the consequences of a mea- sure productive of a sacrifice of blood and wealth, of which we can form no previ- ous estimate.—If our motives should be of a character purely moral, and we re- solve to emancipate our Mexican brethren from motives of disinterested humanity, from our sympathy in their sufferings, from our devotion to the great cause of liberty, we shall exhibit to the universe a novel and most interesting spectacle.— But if we mingle with these exalted feel- ings any consideration of a political or commercial nature, such as generally de- termine the conduct of other nations, we should endeavor to form some previous estimate of the respective weight of these considerations.—That which may be for- med of the political importance of Mexi- co must at best be very vague and con- jectural: and like all questions of this kind, should be considered in its oppo- sing as well as concurring relations to our interests. Perhaps we may calculate on very beneficial and lasting results from the favorable impressions which our kindness and good offices will make— But gratitude, although an honorable, manly virtue, yet is often found to be an oppressive one in the commerce of indi- viduals; and it does not seem to improve much in its application to nations. The giver and receiver estimate its obliga- tions to opposite rules, and generally leave the account unliquidated. But it may be no bad rule to measure our ex- pectations from others, by the extent of the returns which we made to France on a similar occasion. From her we re- ceived the most important, we may say indispensable, aid, in our revolution.— Yet, during the course of her's, so inte- resting to the cause of republicanism, and so calculated to awaken our sympa- thies, our military strength was at no time exerted in her favor, but was at one time actually ranged in opposition to her: nor does our book of rates shew the smallest item of preference to her com- merce; yet we acknowledge our obliga- tions, and speak kindly of our benefac- tor. The new governments will probably do as much, and we shall have no right to ask for more. But in the estimate of the commercial consideration we can proceed with more certainty, and parti- cularly in the case before us, we can bring it to the test of sober statistics.— It is here that little will be found to en- courage the hopes of those who have fan- cied that as soon as Mexico shall be free, we shall see an uninterrupted stream of wealth flow into every part of our coun- try. We shall find that there is a great difference between the existence of wealth in Mexico, and the possession of it here: and although the warmth of our imagina- tion may identify the one with the other, we shall find that the union can only be effected by the ordinary process of labor and industry—we shall see that silver and gold are the principal staples of the commerce of Mexico, as wheat and to- bacco are those of Virginia, and that who- ever goes to Mexico for dollars, must car- ry an equivalent to purchase them But we have already pledged ourselves to re- sume this subject in another part of this discussion. We therefore beg leave to wave it for the present, observing, inci- dentally, that admitting that Mexico were now free, and her commerce open to the world, and such in point of value as it has been for many years past, the inter- course which we now have with the sin- gle island of Cuba, is of more value to the United States in one year, than that with Mexico would be in ten!

In addition to the commercial views we have taken of the consequences of a war single handed with Spain, we will offer a suggestion of a political nature.— Have we any certainty that we shall con- tinue and end the war with her alone? Is it not possible that we may find our- selves, in the course of the contest, en- gaged with more than one antagonist? We know not what treaties she may have with other nations of Europe, which, in- dependently of such engagements, might be desirous of cultivating the most inti- mate relations with us. This will be a fit subject for our consideration, when we shall deliberate on this question.

TO THE PUBLIC.

As the Building Committee of St. Paul's Church have felt it their duty to give public notice that they have (to use their own language) "dismissed me from their employment," and as the terms, if not the object, of that notice are calcu- lated to injure me in the estimation of those unacquainted with me, I deem it proper that the public should be correct- ly informed in what way I have been "dismissed." The fact is, the committee had failed to make such advances up- on my work as they had expressly stipu- lated to make, and which were necessary to enable me regularly to pay off the hands I had engaged; and in conse- quence of this failure, I informed them that unless they complied with their en- gagement I was unable to proceed—they still did not supply me with the money required, and I felt myself compelled to consider my engagement with them at an end.

DR. WILDINS' Celebrated Antibilious Pills.

THE subscribers inform the Public, that they have purchased of Doctor Wilkins his Receipt and the sole right to make and prepare his Pills, known by the name of Wilkins' Antibilious Pills. These Pills have been sold in this city and the neighboring country for the last twelve years, and during that time have acquired a character (for safe and effectual operation) over all medicines of that class ever offered to the public. Their composition is known to and approved of by several of the most eminent physicians of this place. The subscribers, with a view to extend their sale in the country, and to render them an object to country druggists and others, have reduced their wholesale price very considerably; and to accommodate individuals, will furnish them for the future in whole boxes at 50 cents, and half boxes at 25 cents each.—To prevent imposition from counterfeits, each direction will be signed by Dr. Henry Wilkins, the original, and D. & C. French Creek Boarding School.

The following is published for the information of Parents:

HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL for GIRLS.—With this view I have purchased the FRENCH CREEK FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Norristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pikeland and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniencies for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.

In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their ages, nor to require that they shall all be members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequeacy of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter.—The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 5th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stabler, Alexandria, or to EMMOR KIMBER.

Fan-Sash Making,

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expence in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.

Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as if in town.

Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received, direct from the proprietors, the following valuable MEDICINES, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronized by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders for which they are severally calculated.

Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a family medicine. The fame of these pills has become so great, that many have attempted to counterfeit them—to guard against this, the proprietors have procured a stereotype label, and each box of Genuine Lee's Pills will hereafter be enclosed in one of these labels, with these words on the sides: "Lee's Genuine Windham Bilious Pills," and on the end of the label the words, "Samue Lee, patentee, &c. I. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said label on them the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

Dr. Thompson's celebrated Eye Water,

For the cure of inflamed and sore eyes of almost every description. This valuable preparation comes highly recommended from the most respectable sources.—Price 50 and 25 cents a bottle.

Dr. Rawson's Genuine Itch Ointment,

A certain and safe cure for that disagreeable complaint, as well as other irruptions of the skin. Price 37½ cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Anti-Bilious and Stomachic Bitters,

For weakly and infirm constitutions. Price 37½ cents a box.

Hinckley's Infallible Remedy for the Piles,

A most valuable medicine. Price 50 cents a box.

Thompson's Aromatic Tooth Paste,

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the oldest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach
